Celebrating 25 years of naturally indulgent British design and manufacture

It's our birthday!

Celtic & Co turns 25 this year, celebrating the perfect marriage between British design – inspired by our beautiful Cornish coast – and traditional handcrafting techniques with nature's finest fibres.

Did you know we were once called The Original UGG Company, making bespoke boots for local surfers in our hometown of Newquay? Well a lot has changed since our humble beginnings – we now offer an extensive product range of clothing, outerwear, accessories and home furnishings, our catalogues land on over 400,000 doormats each year and with our online presence, we can now chase winter around the globe!

CELTIC & CO.

Authentic & Ethical

Our sheepskin boots and slippers are handmade with care by our talented staff in our Cornish workshop using 100% pure British sheepskin. Once you try Celtic & Co, you won't want to wear any other brand.

Our story began 25 years ago in our hometown of Newquay, making bespoke boots for local surfers.

At Celtic we are passionate about the craft of hand making our boots and slippers. We're proud to say that the skins we use to manufacture our sheepskin footwear are from British sheep. A by-product of the UK farming industry, we choose the finest sheepskin, making our products ethical and high quality. These skins would otherwise be considered waste and farmers would have to pay for their disposal so we are proud to support British farmers with our products.

*Fashion-forward comfort with buckles, zips and fringing.
It's all in the detail.*

Unlike most other sheepskin boots, our Celtic boots are made to last and can be re-soled and repaired, ensuring that they keep on looking as good as they feel.
